

Heritage Grain & Legume Farmers – heritage and organic grains for local markets (LM), Farmers Markets (FM), Community Supported Agriculture (CSA), Mail Order (MO), Wholesale (W)

To qualify for this list farmers are using organic practices and are generally certified organic. At least some of the grains, legumes and seeds that they grow are heritage* varieties, that predate 1880 in the case of wheat. At least some of the heritage grain crop is sold locally, within the state in the USA or within the Country.

*Heritage wheat includes landrace varieties and post-1880 modern varieties that are nonproprietary, usually these are crosses released more than 25 years ago.
